National Financial Literacy Month is celebrated in April. This month is a great opportunity for us to highlight our financial offerings and free tools.

Financial Literacy for Youth

- Kirby Kangaroo Club - up to age 13. Dividends paid on the first dollar beginning this Spring.
- ZOGO APP - download using the code THEFAMILY and get paid to learn financial literacy on your mobile app. 100's of modules to engage, get quizzed, and get rewarded with Pineapples that equal gift cards.

Financial Literacy for Adults/Young Adults

- Banzai is our web-based online platform to help prepare for the real-world of finance. Available to everyone are complete financial course topics, calculators articles and life coaching scenarios and solutions geared to your own financial story.
- Credit Sense. This free web-based product gives you real time Credit Score and the understanding of the factors that impact your score and may be able to see offers that can help you reduce your current interest on loans.
- Credit Coach. Everyone needs a hand now and then. Our in-person Financial Wellness Coordinator, Abby Eaton, can meet with you in person/over the phone to help you better your financial position. Advice and plans in areas including Credit Improvement, Goal Planning, Financial Scams or Debt Management.

Meet Silvis Branch Manager

Lisa Huntley

"The best thing about working for TFCU has been helping members become educated with fraud or our products and services. I take pride in helping members achieve financial goals and helping my team learn all aspects of banking. I love to help the members that other financials refuse to."

Lisa has also been involved in kick boxing for many years.

Meet Jersey Ridge Rd Branch Manager Meenakshi Sharma

"TFCU is a welcoming environment for new employee, members and co-workers. I always find joy when I help my members achieve their financial goals and the smiles I get from members are priceless. Participating in community events is also important to me."

Meena likes to read, garden and game nights with family plus she is an actor who likes to do plays, sing and dance.
